

Pennsylvania
AvenueSaks & CompanySeventh StreetA Saks Reduction affecting Suits and Overcoats up to $50.00

The announcement is all-sufficient—for Washington men know exactly what they will find—because Saks Clothes, like Saks methods, are genuine and sincere. We find it expedient to make the concession now—in preparation for the approaching inventory. They are typical Saks garments—distinctive in character; and of the highest degree of excellence in craftsmanship.

There are the smart models for the young men—not freakish, but refinedly extreme—and the modified designs for those of conservative taste.

There are some twenty lots included in the assortment—all for

Carter Glass Just "Pluck"
With Fellow Rotarians.

LYNCHBURG, Va., January 2 (Special).—When Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, was presented the other night to the local Rotary Club, that being the first meeting he has been home subsequent to his election as a member, he signed the table card as "Pluck" Glass, and fellow citizens, who had always known him as "Mister Glass," began calling him "Pluck," his boyhood nickname. Signing his "business" as "Secretary of the Treasury," caused Secretary E. W. Taylor of the club to cause the card to be framed to be preserved for future records of the club.

DENIKINE'S FORCES
IMPERILED BY REDS

Retreating Along Entire 600-Mile Front and in Danger of Being Cut in Two.

LONDON, January 1 (by the Associated Press).—The position of Gen. Denikine, the anti-bolshevik leader in south Russia, daily is becoming more critical. Reports received from the war office show that his retreat is continuing along virtually the whole of his six-hundred-mile front and that the bolshevik drive against his center with the purpose of cutting his army in two has brought about a critical situation.

The bolshevik advance guards have reached the Donetsk coal basin and are less than 100 miles from the coast. This basin represents the richest mineral section of Russia and its acquisition by the Reds would be of inestimable value to them.

Left Flank Is Endangered. Further east the Reds are imperiling the left flank of the Caucasus army. The bolsheviks evidently succeeded in brilliantly concentrating overwhelming forces against Denikine's somewhat thinly held center and are exploiting their advantage to the fullest degree.

Another threatening situation exists in Transcaucasia, where the bolsheviks claim that they have occupied Djibei station, cutting off the Caucasus army from central Russia. This makes the menace along the Persian and Afghan borders critical.

The red propaganda is increasing in intensity and all the evidence indicates that the soviet government entertains far-reaching anti-British designs in central Asia.

The war office report says that it may be considered that Gen. Kozlov has ceased to be a factor in Russian military affairs.

Will Not Treat With Denikine. DORPAT, Thursday, January 1.—Bolshevik Russia is willing to make great concessions to the big powers in the interests of peace, but will not hold out the olive branch to Gen. Denikine, according to M. Kishke, secretary of the soviet delegation conferring with Estonian delegates here.

"A year ago we would have considered peace with Gen. Denikine," he said, "but now it is a fight to the finish."

M. Kishke added that the bolshevik army now numbered 3,000,000 men and declared it to be "invincible."

"Soviet Russia, however," he declared, "would be glad to discuss the entire force if peace with the world could be achieved."

Bolshevik agents have reported that France is trying to organize a huge offensive against the soviet government, he said.

BELIEVES RUSSIA, LEFT ALONE, WILL SAVE SELF

James O'Grady, About to Resume Prisoner Exchange Parleys With Bolshevik Agent, Optimistic.

LONDON, January 2.—On the eve of his return to Copenhagen to resume the prisoner exchange negotiations with Maxim Litvinoff, the bolshevik representative, James O'Grady, told the Mirror correspondent that he believed the pourparlers would be successful, and that the repatriation of British prisoners and British civilian residents in soviet Russia would be effected by the end of January.

Mr. O'Grady said his consultations since his return from Copenhagen would aid materially in bringing about a settlement. He expressed it as his opinion that Russia would save herself if left alone.

"She is now like a child groping in the dark, but she is growing up," he declared.

"Ninety per cent of Russia's population is illiterate," continued Mr. O'Grady. "The other 10 per cent is purely predatory. They are Asiatic people and are at least a thousand years behind our civilization. We must give them time and help them."

"Russia will regenerate herself by her own resources. I believe she will become the America of another world. The soviet government today is far more humanitarian, far saner and far more statesmanlike than the soviet government of a year ago. Atrocities, of course, are being committed by these Asiatics, but I know that when the perpetrators are adjudged guilty they are exterminated."

Mr. O'Grady strongly opposed armed intervention in Russia, saying it would be a delusion to build hopes on Admiral Kholodkovsky, Gen. Denikine, both of whose armies, he added, were beaten and broken.

"Don't let us imagine," Mr. O'Grady asserted, "that sudden and dramatic intervention by Japan would solve the problem of bolshevism by destroying it. Even a well equipped army of five million men would itself be destroyed by the vastness of Russia. It is not the soviet people. The only hope for Russia lies in education."

WILL LECTURE ON ESKIMO. MacMillan Will Appear at New Masonic Temple Today.

The warm-hearted dwellers in the frozen arctic regions will be described by word and motion picture, when Donald B. MacMillan lectures before members of the National Geographic Society at the New Masonic Temple this afternoon and evening on "Five Years With the Polar Eskimo."

Not only has Mr. MacMillan achieved note as an explorer for such expeditions as those in which he accompanied Peary, directed the exploration of Crocker Land, and was a member of the Cabot Labrador party, but he also is an authority on Eskimo life. He made an ethnological study of the Eskimos of Labrador, which was especially notable.

Added interest inheres in Mr. MacMillan's Washington appearance, because he is to start when winter breaks, upon a trip to the interior of Baffin bay, in a schooner built through contributions of Bowdoin College men. He considers that land the most important region of the arctic yet to be explored, with the exception of the great unknown sector of the polar sea, into which he penetrated in 1914.

REALTY DEALS INCREASE. Realty operations for 1919 exceeded by nearly 50 per cent the activity of the preceding year, if the number of papers filed with the recorder of deeds is to be accepted as a criterion. Recorder Costello reports a total of 45,549 papers filed in 1919 as compared with 30,612 in 1918.
